David Malukas joins Team Penske for the 2026 NTT INDYCAR SERIES season, becoming just the second driver in team history to compete in the No. 12 Verizon Chevrolet. At 24 years old, the first-generation Lithuanian American will become the youngest driver ever to race a full season for Team Penske's historically successful INDYCAR program. Malukas joins Team Penske after a 2025 INDYCAR SERIES season where he produced two top-five finishes, five top-10 results and 97 laps led in 2025 on the way to finishing 11th in the final series standings. Despite his youth, Malukas is keenly aware of the opportunity that is in front of him in 2026 and beyond. After earning three podium finishes, five top-five and 16 top-10 results over his first four seasons in the NTT INDYCAR SERIES, the native of Chicago will be in a position to compete for wins and championships behind the wheel of one of the most iconic cars in INDYCAR SERIES history.

Malukas resides in the Lake Norman, NC area where he enjoys producing social media content, gaming and cooking. He also has a robust fitness routine that includes jiu-jitsu and plenty of running.
